

Raise the Rate

People receiving Newstart and Youth Allowance in South Australia

May 2018

Australia's social safety net is something most of us contribute to, and most of us benefit from, at different times in our lives. Our safety net should allow people to afford a roof over their head and put food on the table. The current rates of Newstart and Youth Allowance do not cover the cost of basic essentials.

Key statistics (2017)

Around 8% of working-age people in South Australia receive an unemployment or student payment.

Newstart

- There are 67,982 recipients of Newstart Allowance
- Around 67% of Newstart recipients have received Newstart for 12 months or more
- 78% of people are paid at the single rate of the allowance
- Most people receiving the payment are aged between 35 and 64 (67%)
- Around 7.4% of people receiving Newstart identify as Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander
- Most people receiving Newstart are men

Youth Allowance

- There are 8,557 recipients of Youth Allowance (Other) (unemployment payment for young people aged 16-21)
- There are 12,070 recipients of Youth Allowance (student and apprentice)
- The vast majority of recipients are paid the single rate
- Most people receiving Youth Allowance are women

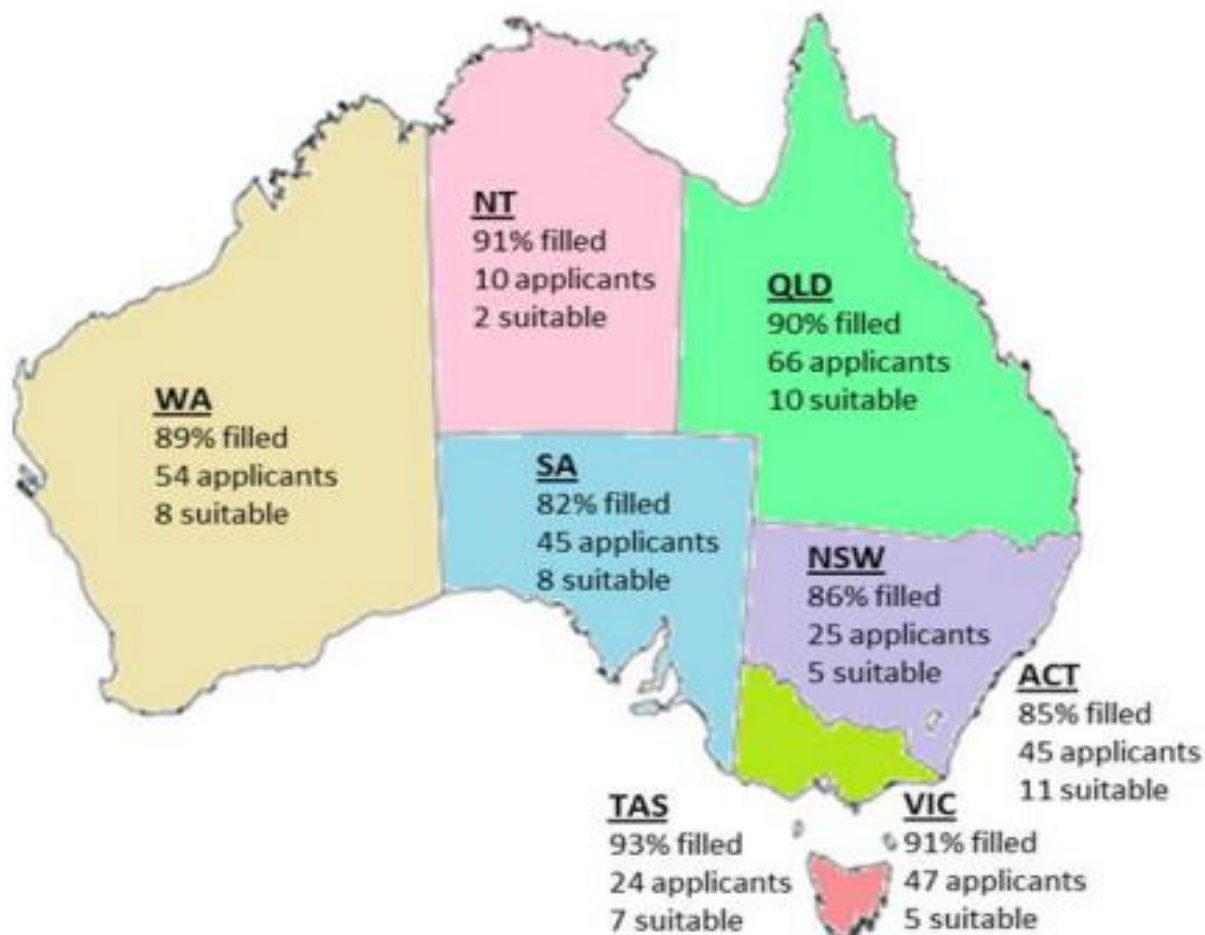

Receipt of Newstart and Youth Allowance by state (Sept 2017)

Data sourced from Department of Social Services (2017) 'DSS Payment Demographic Data' <https://data.gov.au/dataset/dss-payment-demographic-data>

2015 data from the Department of Employment found that there were 45 applicants for each entry-level position in South Australia, with only eight applicants suitable for each of those jobs. 82% of entry-level vacancies were filled.

Entry-level vacancies filled and number of applicants and suitable applicants by location

Source: Department of Employment (2015) 'Entry level jobs – opportunities and barriers' Labour Market Research and Analysis Branch, <https://docs.jobs.gov.au/system/files/doc/other/entryleveloverall.pdf>